Jaguar is committed to the safety and protection of both the occupants of its vehicles as well as others on the road. Each model Jaguar features an array of driver aids designed to assist in safer driving. In fact, the company has pioneered many safety systems that are now commonplace with other manufacturers. It is a dedication to safety that is ongoing and can be found in many of the features on Jaguar cars today.

The focal point of the strength of the XJ is the immensely strong aluminum body construction. Another advanced feature is Blind Spot Monitoring, also standard on every 2012 XJ. All 2012 Jaguar cars feature Emergency Brake Assist, Dynamic Stability Control, Traction Control, Cornering Brake Control, Tire Pressure Monitoring Systems and Winter Mode, a driver-selectable feature which helps maximize traction and stability in severe weather. Additionally, the XK Convertible features an advanced rollover protection system - if the system detects an impending rollover two strong hoops are deployed behind the rear seats.

The Jaguar suite of safety systems show that the beauty of the XJ, XF and XK is far more than just skin deep.
LEAN AND GREEN

Jaguar is focused on creating beautiful, exhilarating-to-drive cars that meet the environmental challenges of a rapidly changing world. It is a focus that is centered on using new materials that remove weight, giving benefits to efficiency, performance and safety. It is a focus on improving the way cars are built, reducing the use of energy and natural resources, and eliminating waste: focusing on the entire ‘lifecycle’ impact of a vehicle. Nothing demonstrates our continued drive towards a sustainable future better than the Jaguar XJ. It breaks new ground by using recycled and reclaimed aluminum for over 50 percent of the weight of its body and, at the end of its life, 85 percent of the XJ is recyclable. And all Jaguar cars are powered by a remarkable new generation of Jaguar engines that use technology such as direct injection to both improve fuel efficiency and provide truly refined, dynamic performance.
