Climb higher, think bigger, be bolder. At Kia, this thinking embodies our Give It Everything spirit, and we celebrate others who share this passion for performance. Shelma Jun is the perfect example. She became hooked on climbing for the thrill, the adrenaline, the wild places it took her. But as a female athlete in a male-dominated sport, Shelma often felt disconnected, driving her to seek out other women with whom to climb. Her new “girl crew” inspired and supported one another, and Shelma began documenting their outings on Instagram.

Suddenly, she had thousands of follows from other women climbers seeking advice on ways to connect — and Shelma knew she had to take action. She founded Flash Foxy, a national online community that empowers and connects women climbers, along with the Women’s Climbing Festival. Today, Flash Foxy is over 40,000 members strong and has created such positive change in the sport, Shelma was named by Outside magazine as one of “40 women who have made the biggest impact on the outdoors.”

"I WANT TO OPEN UP CONVERSATIONS IN CLIMBING THAT WILL AFFECT EVERYBODY ON A LARGE SCALE."
— SHELMA JUN

THRIVE IN TAKING ACTION.

WE ENGINEERED SELTOS TO GIVE YOU THE POWER AND PERFORMANCE TO TAKE ON YOUR LIFE’S BIG ENDEAVORS WHEREVER THEY LEAD — WHILE EXPERTLY HANDLING EVERY EXCITING TWIST AND TURN ALONG THE WAY.†

We never stop striving to bring the latest life-enhancing innovations in technology to our design process, and people like Sean Petterson are driven by the same mission. His company, StrongArm Technologies, creates wearable products that protect workers from injuries on the job. Using sensor technology, big data, and machine learning, his products are designed to monitor worker’s movements, detect injury risk, and intervene before incidents occur.

For Sean, the inspiration for launching StrongArm was personal. His father, a construction worker, died on the roof of a job site. His goal is to continue seeking new ways to keep the “Industrial Athlete” proud, protected, and productive — helping to keep them a little bit safer on the job. After 10 years, dozens of innovations, and thousands of their products used in the field every day, he is surely doing just that.

"MY MOTIVATION HAS ALWAYS BEEN TO MAKE PRODUCTS THAT HAVE AN IMPACT ON HUMANITY. I LOVE PROVIDING THIS NOTION OF HUMAN AUGMENTATION THROUGH DESIGN AND TECHNOLOGY.” — SEAN PETTerson

We designed Seltos to help you explore what's possible and Jerome Stanislaus has dedicated himself to exactly that. As a child, Jerome dreamed of becoming a pilot and flying high above the clouds, though back then, he never believed it could come true. The reason? “I had never seen a Black pilot.” Even today, only about 3% of all commercial pilots are African American.

But having no role models didn’t stop Jerome from persevering. After training to be an aircraft mechanic in the military, he earned his pilot’s license and skydiving certification. And though he had finally achieved his dream of “flying planes and jumping out of them,” he remained keenly aware that, without role models, many kids might never pursue a career in aviation — and he was determined to change that. Today, Jerome donates his time and costs to take racially diverse young people on flights, provide ongoing mentorship, and help them soar higher than they ever imagined.

“One day I had an epiphany — out of nowhere, my heart just filled with wanting to share aviation with others.”

— JEROME STANISLAUS
