Create your own “possible.” At Kia, we believe that when you Give It Everything, there’s no limit to what you can do — and people like Luis Benitez are living proof. Born with debilitating asthma, Luis spent his childhood in and out of hospitals and mostly indoors. “I was a boy in a bubble,” he says. One day, he read about a famed mountaineer with asthma who had summited Mount Everest, and as Luis puts it, “Something clicked. I associated climbing mountains with being healthy, with thrill and adventure — and I found my passion.”

He began climbing as a teen, training relentlessly for the rugged, high altitudes, pushing himself higher and farther. “Mountaineering is one of the most merciless sports there is. You can’t fake it. You sleep it, eat it, drink it, live it.” Today, Luis is among the world’s elite mountain guides who has summited Mount Everest six times and scaled the Seven Summits 32 times. He has also shared his passion and skill to serve others, including Veterans and disadvantaged youth, through his trekking-based nonprofits, Warriors to Summits and Trekking for Kids.

“IF YOU REALLY CHALLENGE YOURSELF, YOU CAN TRULY CHANGE THE WORLD.”
— LUIS BENITEZ

Believe in the big picture. At Kia, we’re committed to pursuing new endeavors that help reduce our environmental impact, and we celebrate those who do the same, like Jasmine Crowe. A passionate social entrepreneur, Jasmine’s mission is to end hunger, reduce food waste, and help the environment — and she’s achieving it all through the power of technology. She’s the founder of Goodr, a real-time food waste management app that lets companies track their surplus fresh food, donate it to those in need in their communities, and in doing so, divert millions of pounds of food waste from landfills — a leading source of greenhouse gas emissions.

With years of experience working to feed vulnerable populations, Jasmine realized that “hunger is not an issue of scarcity, it’s a matter of logistics,” inspiring her to launch Goodr in 2017 — despite having no prior background in technology. To date, Goodr has helped redirect more than 2 million pounds of unused food into the hands of the people who need it most, creating a better environment for all of us.

“I HEARD ‘NO’ SO MANY TIMES, BUT I DIDN’T GET DEFEATED BECAUSE I KNEW WHAT I WAS FIGHTING FOR WAS WORTH IT.”
— JASMINE CROWE

ECO DYNAMICS

SORENTO’S THOUGHTFULLY CRAFTED INTERIOR GIVES YOU THE FLEXIBILITY, SPACE, AND FEATURES TO HELP YOU PURSUE WHAT YOU LOVE, WHEREVER IT LEADS YOU.

“THE CHANGE STARTS WITH YOU. I HATE HEARING PEOPLE SAY I CAN’T OR I’D NEVER. THOSE WORDS SHOULD BE TAKEN OUT OF THE HUMAN VOCABULARY. CHANGE THOSE WORDS TO I CAN AND I WILL.”
— PAUL DE GELDER

THRIVE IN ANY SITUATION.

SORENTO’S THOUGHTFULLY CRAFTED INTERIOR GIVES YOU THE FLEXIBILITY, SPACE, AND FEATURES TO HELP YOU PURSUE WHAT YOU LOVE, WHEREVER IT LEADS YOU.

Let nothing stop you. We designed Sorento to help you boldly meet any moment, and Paul de Gelder is the ultimate example of doing just that. Growing up, Paul chased adventure wherever he could find it — traits that led him to become an elite clearance diver in the military. During a training exercise in 2009, Paul was brutally attacked by a bull shark — losing his right leg, part of his right arm, and very nearly his life. He spent two months in the hospital recovering, where he was fitted with high-tech prosthetic limbs. True to his nature to take on any challenge, Paul charged full-force into his recovery, battling through excruciating pain, and amazing the medical staff with his will to succeed.

In the 10-plus years since the attack, Paul has embraced new adventures every bit as epic as before. With no fear of returning to the water, he continued to instruct military divers for three more years. Today, he travels the world as a passionate shark conservationist, motivational speaker, TV host, and mentor to school kids, inspiring thousands through his experiences of overcoming adversity and embracing change.

Strive to improve lives. We’re constantly seeking innovative technologies to help keep our drivers safe, and people like M. Bernardine Dias are driven by a similar purpose. A technology and robotics specialist focused on compassionate engineering, Bernardine has collaborated with Carnegie Mellon University to create a Smart Traffic Signal system to assist pedestrians with disabilities cross traffic intersections safely. Using embedded artificial intelligence designed to coordinate with an app on the pedestrian’s smartphone, the system monitors their crossing intentions and speed, adjusting the signal timing accordingly.

Bernardine discovered her passion for science and technology as a student growing up in Sri Lanka, against the backdrop of the ongoing civil war. The war caused significant hardships for many, especially those from marginalized populations. Working hard to earn a scholarship, she was able to immigrate to the U.S., and has since devoted her career to developing technologies that better the lives of those who need them most.

“MY WISH IS THAT INNOVATORS WILL STEP OUT OF THEIR COMFORT ZONES, LISTEN ATTENTIVELY, AND COLLABORATE RESPECTFULLY TO MAKE TECHNOLOGY THAT TRULY BENEFITS EVERYONE.”
— BERNARDINE DIAS, Ph.D.
